GREAT BATTLE IS RAGING AT YPRES

DANKL'S AUSTRIAN ARMY DECLINES CO-OPERATION WITH VON HINDENBERG'S

German Crown Prince Failed to Hold Centre Position and Scrambled Back to Fatherland Driven by Unceasing Fire From Russian Guns

London, Nov. 12.—According to the Daily News' Petrograd correspondent, General Dankl, with the remainder of the Austrian army, is moving due south across Galicia. General Dankl, the correspondent adds, has refused further co-operation with General von Hindenberg or the German staff.

Russians Cut Great Army in Two.

London, Nov. 12.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Daily Mail sends the following: "It is now admitted semi-officially but not yet mentioned in the official communications, that it was the failure of the German crown prince to hold his position in the centre which compelled a retreat along the whole line. While General von Hindenberg on the left and the Austrians on the right were both maintaining their positions the crown prince's army was fleeing back to the fatherland.

"The Russians poured in between the wings thus left in danger and attacked them, each on two sides, forcing them to scramble back to the frontiers and losing terribly all the way.

Germany's Excuse For Retreat Ridiculed.

"The excuse made in Germany of bad roads is ridiculed here, since, in spite of bad roads, the Russians accomplished marvels in marching. The Russians, unlike the Germans, do not depend upon the resources of the country they are traversing, but bring ample provisions with them.

"It appears that six German princes were killed in this battle, three of the Lippe family and one each of the Houses of Hesse, Waldeck and Reuss."

Petrograd, Nov. 12.—A special correspondent of the Uro-Road, just returned from the front, gives interesting particulars of the German retreat from the Ystida.

In the opening stage of the retreat, the enemy fell back very slowly, fighting all the way and not making more than from three to eleven miles a day. When, however, the Russian cavalry worked its way around to their rear, the Germans hastened their movements and made very little attempt to defend even the entrenched positions they had laboriously prepared.

"The dashing Russian horsemen," adds the correspondent, "with light rifles, were ever on their heels and kept them on their heels; once in a while they got in intervals of repose the army retreating from Plek on October 31 and November 1, accomplished marches of 20 miles a day."

"Exhausted by these great efforts the troops stopped to rest, but hardly had they kindled their bivouac fires before the rattle of musketry put an end to their repose. The frontiers were not to get in intervals of repose the army retreating from Plek on October 31 and November 1, accomplished marches of 20 miles a day."

"The Kaiser has ordered that all Mohammedans captured from the allied armies be sent to Constantinople to serve in the Turkish army."

"A telegram from Bucharest, Roumania, says that Hahil Bey, uncle of Enver Bey, the leader of the Young Turks, has arrived there on a special mission in behalf of Turkey."

BERLIN OFFICIAL TOOK AMERICAN'S PASSPORT

Ingis Explains How Lady Came to Be in Possession of the Document.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Charles A. Ingis, the Chicagoan, whose American passport was found on the person of Carl Hans Lody, executed in the Tower of London as a German spy, told today how he had lost his passport in Berlin. His story implicates the German foreign office and is being investigated by the state department at Washington.

Ingis, who returned to his home here a few days ago after a prolonged sojourn in Europe, was caught in Berlin when the war broke out. He took his passport to the German foreign office to have it approved. He handed it to a clerk, expecting that in due course of routine it would be returned to the American embassy.

It failed to reach there, however, and after considerable delay he got a second document, by means of which he was able to leave Germany.

MEYER WALDECK TELLS EMPEROR WILLIAM WHY

Tokio, Nov. 12.—Meyer Waldeck, who commanded the German forces at Tsing Tau, according to a dispatch from Tsing Tau to the Asahi, has sent a telegram to Emperor William saying he was compelled to surrender on account of lack of ammunition and the heavy damage inflicted by the enemy on his forts.

CRUISER GOEBEN—HIT BELOW WATERLINE

Petrograd, Nov. 12.—A dispatch received to-day from Constantinople says that the Turkish cruiser Goeben was penetrated by a shell at her waterline during the recent bombardment of the Dardanelles, by the allied Anglo-French fleet. The damage inflicted is serious.

The Goeben is one of the two German cruisers taken over by Turkey after the outbreak of the war.

QUEEN MARY TALKS WITH WOUNDED MEN

Soldiers in Hospital Tell Her Majesty of Battles Where They Were Hurt

London, Nov. 12.—Queen Mary gladdened the hearts of two hundred wounded Tommies in the American woman's hospital at Paignton, Devonshire, by a visit to-day and a personal gift to each wounded soldier.

At the invitation of Lady Arthur Paget, chairman of the American women's committee supporting the hospital, the queen left London early in the morning on a special train for a four-hour trip, accompanied by Lady Trefusis, one of her ladies-in-waiting; Sir Charles Cust of the King's household; Lady Arthur Paget, Lady Randolph Churchill and Mrs. Lewis Harcourt, the last three being members of the hospital committee.

Upon arrival at the hospital, Dr. Howard N. Beale, and the other surgeons and nurses were presented to the queen, who remained for two hours visiting the wards and talking to the wounded and presenting them with pipes, shirts, cigarettes and mufflers.

The queen was enthusiastic in her praise of the beautiful hospital, which is the private estate of Paris Singer and which he has given for the use of the American women. She highly commended the immaculate wards, thanked the surgeons and nurses for their efforts in behalf of the British soldiers and congratulated the soldiers upon falling into such good hands.

Only seriously wounded privates are sent to Paignton, the American women feeling that they have the greatest need of sea air and are least able to look after themselves. Practically all the patients are bed-ridden. The queen did not overlook a single man. She chatted with men wounded at Mons, Courtrai and Ypres, discussing those battles and the conditions under which the men were wounded, invariably congratulating them on their valor and thanking them for their service to the nation.

The queen was especially impressed by the efficiency of the hospital staff, which consists of two American Red Cross units, of six surgeons and twenty-four nurses under the direction of Dr. Beale.

Every cent for the equipment of the hospital is contributed by Americans, who maintain it throughout the war without British aid. While Queen Mary was at Paignton, King George was spending the day with the troops at Aldershot.

WELCOME IN AUSTRALIA FOR GERMAN COMMANDER

London, Nov. 12.—The Australians are making preparations to welcome Captain Carl von Mueller, commander of the German cruiser Emden, destroyed recently by the Australian cruiser Sydney, telegraphs the correspondent at Sydney, N. S. W., of the Evening News. They are arranging to show their recognition of his gallantry and courtesy.

TURKISH TORPEDO BOAT CAPTURED OFF TENEDOS

London, Nov. 12.—A Turkish torpedo-boat, which escaped from the Dardanelles, has been captured off Tenedos, an island five miles off the northwest coast of Asia Minor, according to an Athens dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

KING'S COUSINS FIGHT FOR GERMANY NATIONALIST WANTS COMMONS TO ACT

London, Nov. 12.—The status of two semi-British dukes now fighting in the German army against Britain, the Duke of Cumberland and the Duke of Albany, will be debated in the house to-morrow on a question to be put by Swift Macnells, Nationalist, who is anxious to know how Premier Asquith purposes to deal with these two cousins of King George. Mr. Macnells will urge that they be deprived of their British peerage and titles and their seats in the House of Lords.

The Duke of Albany, who has also the title of Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, is a first cousin of King George. He was born in 1884 and educated in England and in Germany. He has a commission in one British and in several German regiments. The Duke of Cumberland is a second cousin of the king. He was born in 1845 and is a general in the British and a colonel in the Austrian army. He married a daughter of King Christian IX. of Denmark.

RUMOR IN COMMONS THAT THREE GERMAN CRUISERS ARE SUNK

London, Nov. 12.—A report was current in the lobby of the House of Commons to-day that three German cruisers had been sunk in the Pacific at a place not specified. No confirmation, however, of this rumor is obtainable.

THELMA IS CARRYING FOOD FOR BELGIANS

Ceremonies Attended Departure of Supply Vessel From Philadelphia To-day.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 12.—The food ship Thelma, bearing 1,900 tons of foodstuffs for the starving people in Belgium, sailed to-day for Rotterdam from which point her cargo will be distributed.

The departure was made impressive by the attending ceremonies. Mayor Blankenburg and distinguished citizens were on the wharf and a great throng of people watched the little Norwegian ship as she steamed away. A band played "The Star Spangled Banner" and "La Brabanconne, the national anthem of Belgium.

The sending of the food was made possible by the generosity of the people of Philadelphia. One citizen paid the expenses of the ship and contributions ranging from one cent to one thousand dollars bought the cargo.

FRENCH STEAMER FOUNDERS.

London, Nov. 12.—A dispatch from Havre to Lloyd's agency says that the French steamer Duchess de Guiche, founded in the Havre roadstead during a gale and that eleven persons lost their lives.

"THE BRITISH EMPIRE IS NOW FIGHTING FOR ITS EXISTENCE."

This was the emphatic statement of Earl Kitchener at the Guildhall on Monday.

OUR WAR LORD Again appealed not only for "men," but for "material" help. That was his appeal to all of us.

There are not many "slackers" among the "fighters." Let there be none among the "givers."

ARMENTIERES STANDS BETWEEN ARMIES TOO HOT FOR EITHER SIDE

Since November Tenth Germans Have Been Unable to Make an Advance Against Consistent Fighting of Allied Forces' Left Wing in Belgium

In the Region of Craonne German Artillery Has Been Beaten and Silenced; Progress Made Near Berry Au Bac

London, Nov. 12.—The allies still hold Ypres, where the fighting evidently is of the most desperate character. Shells constantly are falling in the town, which also is the subject of aeroplane attacks. Armentieres, which has been constantly a bone of contention, being first occupied by the invaders and then by the defenders, now has become too hot for occupation by either side. The Germans are on the hills on one side of the town, and the allies are attacking unceasingly from the other side.

Paris, Nov. 12.—The French official statement given out in Paris this afternoon says:

"On our left wing the fighting still continues with violence, and has been conducted with alternate advances and retirements without importance. Speaking broadly, the battle-front has not varied greatly since the tenth of November. In the evening of yesterday it extended along the line between Lombaertzyde and Nieupoort, the Nieupoort canal to Ypres, the approaches of Ypres, in the region of Zonnebecke, and to the east of Armentieres.

"There has been no change in the positions held by the British army which repulsed the attacks of the enemy, and particularly an offensive movement undertaken by a detachment of the Prussian guard.

Positions Retained and Strengthened.

"From the canal of La Bassee as far as and up to the river Oise, there have been minor engagements.

"In the region of the river Aisne, in the neighborhood of Vailley, we retained our position against a counter attack, and we strengthened our positions in the territory previously conquered by us.

"In the region of Craonne and on the Heurtebief farm our artillery succeeded in reducing to silence the cannon of the enemy. Several of their pieces were destroyed. We made some progress in the vicinity of Berry au Bac.

"In the Argonne, in the Woivre district, in Lorraine and the Vosges the respective positions show no change."

London, Nov. 12.—The Amsterdam correspondent of Reuter's telegraphs the following: "Sluis advises indicate that the Germans continue to blow up bridges and that among the structures so destroyed is the bridge near Heyst in West Flanders. Sentries are guarding the railroads from Bruges to Ghent, from Courtrai to Ostend and so forth.

"The allies continue to occupy Ypres but shells falling in town yesterday killed four children. Aeroplanes are reported to have dropped bombs which damaged the church and town hall and set fire to several other buildings.

"The Kaiser's journeying through Flanders, visited Courtrai and expressed his satisfaction to the municipal authorities for the manner in which the German troops are quartered.

"From the Nieupoort some only feeble gunning was heard on Wednesday.

"Trainloads of wounded are continuously being transported from the battle-line."

Paris, Nov. 12.—The battle in Flanders is expected to reach a decision, according to the official communication and judging from eye witnesses arriving from the battle-front.

The Germans have given an emphatic denial of the reports that they were in retreat by carrying Dixmude on the Yser, twelve miles north of Ypres, and on the road to Dunkirk, which the Germans are striving to attain. French blue-jackets at Dixmude had held the town against them in the face of fierce attacks for the last week, but were finally compelled to give way.

On the rest of the front as far as the Lys, the situation, according to latest advices remains practically unchanged.

As the principal action latterly has centered to a large extent around Dixmude, the Germans are entitled to claim the advantage, but the French are strongly posted in the vicinity and the possession of the village as far as has availed them but little.

Aviators report movement of German troops and heavy guns on a large scale. In the interior of Belgium, some going toward Germany, others towards Antwerp and yet others toward Courtrai.

The explanation of this movement appears to be that solid troops, capable of operating in the open, are being sent to Eastern Prussia, their places in the trenches being taken by less trained men. The guns going to Antwerp are believed here to be due to a desire to have a strong flank position against the allies in case of their advance on to Brussels.

SERVIANS ANNIHILATE AUSTRIAN BATTALIONS

Nish, Nov. 12.—Six battalions of Austrian infantry, with quick-firing guns, which crossed the Danube near Smederevo under cover of artillery fire on November 9 have been annihilated by a Serbian counter attack, according to official information given out in Nish to-day.

"All the men not killed, wounded or drowned in the Danube fell into our hands," the Serbian announcement continued. "We made 2,000 prisoners and captured two quick-firing guns."

EQUIPMENT READY FOR INFANTRY BATTALIONS

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—That full equipment is ready for the eight infantry battalions now mobilizing for the second contingent at divisional and district area headquarters is the statement made by General Macdonald, quartermaster-general. This includes rifles, ammunition and clothing of every description. The uniforms are now being distributed and at some points rifles have already been issued to the men.

LATE-NIGHT WAR NEWS

SCOTTISH REGIMENT STANDS UNDER FIRE

Territorial Unit Flanked by Enemy Suffers Severely but Never Wavers

London, Nov. 11.—The official press bureau issues the following descriptive account, which has been communicated by an eyewitness present with the general headquarters, and which continues and supplements the narrative published on November 8 of the movements of the British force and the French armies in immediate touch with it:

"November 4.—Before the chronological record of the course of events is resumed a short description will be given of the part in the battle played on October 31 by the London Scottish regiment. The occasion is not looked upon as a special one because this battalion acquitted itself well, for that would be regarded as a matter of course, nor because it has done better than the regular battalions, who have been doing as much, if not more, for weeks on end. It is a special event because it forms an epoch in the military history of the British empire, and marks the first time that a complete unit of the territorial army has been thrown into a fight alongside its sister units of the regular army. Briefly, what happened was this:

"On Saturday, October 31, on being ordered to take up a section of the firing line to support some of our cavalry, and having advanced to its position under heavy fire from field guns, howitzers and machine guns, the battalion reached a point where further movement forward was impossible. There it maintained itself until dark, when it proceeded to entrench. From 5 o'clock that night until Sunday the Germans made numerous attacks on the Scottish line, all of which were repulsed by rifle fire. At 8 a.m. they made their great effort, and assailed the front and left of the position in great force. A considerable number succeeded in getting around the flank of the regiment. A large proportion of these were engaged by the sister companies in support and reserve, while others penetrated between the first and second lines of trenches and assailed our firing line in the rear.

"While the fighting with rifle and bayonet was going on, both in front and immediately behind the firing line, a reserve company still further behind made repeated bayonet charges against the enemy who had got round, and so prevented the entire envelopment of the battalion. Behind the firing line the scene of combat was lit up by a blazing house which the Germans set fire to.

"At dawn it was discovered that large numbers of the enemy had, according to custom, worked round both flanks, with machine guns, and a reinforcement was carried out. This was effected under a cross fire from machine guns and rifles.

"Naturally in an encounter of this nature the battalion suffered a heavy loss, but though unable to maintain its position it acquitted itself with gallantry and coolness in a situation of peculiar difficulty, and following the national motto of 'nemo me impune lacessit' inflicted far more damage on the enemy than it received.

"On November 1 the full violence of the enemy's attack again fell on our left, their main efforts being still directed slightly south of Ypres. Such was the force of the onslaught and the weight of the artillery supporting it that our line was temporarily driven back. It was soon readjusted, however, and by evening the situation in this quarter was the same as it had been at hours earlier.

"That night some shells were thrown into Ypres itself. Further to the south the Germans had during the previous night retaken the village of Messines and had also recaptured Wyclechaete. By 11 a.m. our cavalry, working in co-operation with the French, drove them out of the latter place by a brilliant bayonet charge, but we did not occupy it. A few of the prisoners taken at this place said that they had had practically no training and little food. Some of them had never fired a rifle before.

"The fact that Messines still remained in the enemy's hands necessitated a slight adjustment of our front in the centre, but this was effected, the bombardment continuing all day.

"During the action around these two villages the Germans moving across our front suffered very greatly from the massed fire of our horse artillery at short range, but though they fell literally in heaps they still came on with admirable determination.

"South of the line some of the trenches which had been lost on the previous night were recaptured by us, otherwise the situation remained as it had been. No attacks were delivered against us, and the enemy contented themselves with bombarding our trenches. A heavy battery was knocked out by our artillery.

"Some of the prisoners taken on the first day entered the field, stated as his opinion that Germany realized that she had failed in her object and was only fighting in order to obtain good terms."

LOUVAIN AWAKES AS FROM AWFUL DREAM

Pitiful Sights of Battered Town Bring Tears to Eyes of Visitor

(By James O'Donnell-Bennett.)
Louvain, Belgium, Nov. 12.—In front of the railway stations at Louvain is a bit of ornamental garden, surrounded by a low fence of stone and iron. The length of the garden is perhaps 200 feet, the width 150. On the side of it which commands the appalling stretch of desolation extending from the station straight to the exquisite Hotel de Ville rises Charles Goetz' proud bronze of Sylvain van der Weyer.

That patriot and statesman was a native of Louvain and one of the leaders in the revolution of 1830, which established the independence of Belgium. He died full of years and honors in 1874. To-day in effigy he surveys one of the saddest sights of Christendom.

The long Rue de la-Station is bordered by scores of houses which stand open to the sky. Here and there a shattered door lies flat on the ground, and giving evidence of violent entry before the house was fired.

In another house the destruction has been only partial. The arrangements of the floor are quite intact and on a shelf in a bedroom you see an array of children's toys—something woolly and conical, like a Teddy bear, and little railway cars of gaudy painted tin. Those trifles of the nursery are unscathed.

Sad-eyed people move along the wide street, some listlessly, like persons who still walk in a dream, some with a still walk in a dream, some with a wishful to reach a destination in a town that seems to have no more share in the normal activities of life—a town without meeting places, without hours, without aims or business in the world; a town groping its way through ruins out of a dreadful nightmare; a town not asleep and yet not awake; a dumb, wondering town, fearful to take account of its own sensations.

A woman dressed in black passes. A little boy runs by her side. She looks up with an expectant eye, like a person in a daze who would welcome a reassuring word.

Behind a monument are new-made graves—roughly shaped mounds, unsodded, unseemingly, but gives a pitiful tenderness by the hurried efforts to decorate them. There are not single graves, but trenches in which lie many men. Already the exact number has been forgotten.

Some German soldiers of the Louvain garrison say that 200 of their comrades lie here; an officer standing nearby says no, not so many—perhaps 150. Another remarks: "I think about 150." Over each mound have been strewn branches broken from the palms in the huge vases. On smaller mounds, which give some evidence of individuality, are crosses fashioned from laths.

On the upright piece of each cross hangs a German helmet, its varnished outside and its metal ornaments still fresh and bright.

On the arms of the cross have been scrawled the words:

"Der Rhein ist Gott."

And then the name of the soldier thus briefly commemorated, together with the number of his company, regiment, and army corps.

Down the long paved corridor of a French public school which has been turned into a military hospital come the wall of a man-crying, "Mutter! Mutter! Mutter!" over and over again. A sergeant passes, a street scene is made of the others, "over the sergeant, that is all. There is no mother there. You are vaguely sorry. For the moment you cannot grieve more.

The mind ceases to react upon this multitude of impressions, miseries, anxieties, pains, deliriums. Often and often you think and talk of the common affairs of life—of letters from home, of what newspapers are saying, of a celebrity who was in the town the night before, of something good to eat, or of a good place to sleep in prospect. You even laugh over a story. There is salvation in that, and you are not ashamed to laugh.

Suddenly, in an unguarded moment, the meaning and the length of it all grip a man. He sees the pale nurse bending over a soldier who is trying for shame's sake and for the woman's sake not to moan as she strips the blackened bandages away from the shattered arm. Or he comes upon these new-made graves with the little crosses that the winds of winter will so soon blow down.

The man turns away from you. A sob chokes his throat. In a rush of tears it all comes home to him—vivid, ruthless, terrible. He cannot see the graves huddled around the patriot's statue in the station garden at Louvain. He has crossed frontiers and he is standing in sequestered villages with weeping women and with fatherless children who do not understand why mother cries.

He brushes the vision away and again his eyes rest on the flag that flutters from the little mound and on the graves of them that sleep in the desolated city of an alien land.

It was only a month ago that soldiers planted the palms and geraniums there.

And now the autumn has withered them all.

MORE THAN MILLION JOIN REGULAR ARMY

Premier Asquith in Commons Says Empire is Now on Trial

London, Nov. 12.—In the House of Commons yesterday, Premier Asquith announced that exclusive of territorialists, over 1,000,000 men had joined the regular army. When he asked how many more men would be required, however, he would not risk a reply.

Mr. Asquith further intimated that a vote of credit of considerable dimensions would be asked by the Government and that there would be another vote for men. This indicates that the Government intends to go beyond the million men asked for by Earl Kitchener, and that the recruiting will continue until the war is concluded.

Already there has been a big improvement in the number of men enlisted, and it is expected there will be another big boom when winter brings about an increase of unemployment.

Premier Asquith declared that he doubted whether the war would last as long as some people originally predicted, but that it would last long was certain.

"However, the longer it lasts," continued the Premier, "the more the great resources and strength will be available to fill the gaps, to replace the losses and maintain our position. The Empire is on trial, and the experience of the last three months has inspired us with the confident hope that the danger the trial lasts the more clearly we will emerge from it as the 'champions of a just cause.'"

Mr. Asquith expressed warm appreciation of the support which the Government had received from all parties. England is engaged in an unprecedented contest, he said, and regarding the justice of her cause in this there is no difference of opinion in any part of the Empire. The country has gone through much, has learned much, has seen her troops hold positions of difficulty and danger, the Premier continued, and he added:

"To-day we see them in a position in which, in connection with our allies, France and Belgium, they have frustrated the first designs of the German Emperor."

Regarding the sending of British marines to Antwerp just before the fall of the city, the Premier intimated that Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, subsequently would make a more detailed statement, but he said at once that the responsibility for the expedition was shared by the Government as a whole. Earl Kitchener was consulted, and everything was done with his knowledge and approval, and the expedition was a material and most useful factor in the conduct of the campaign.

The Premier pointed out that the number of men authorized by the three votes of the present year for the regular army—not territorialists—was 1,158,000. Of that total all but 100,000 are already in the service of the King.

A committee of inquiry, composed of all parties, will be appointed to consider allowances to those dependent upon soldiers.

Monday next, said Mr. Asquith, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, will lay before the house his financial proposals, including the question of a loan, for which the government is going to ask the authority of the house on Tuesday.

Viscount Bryce in seconding the address in the House of Lords, referred to the public opinion in the United States, which he declared was a country able to judge wisely the questions at issue. It was upon moral grounds that its support was given, and this was therefore more highly prized.

"The war, said Viscount Bryce, has become a struggle of ideals. The ideal of a military state was to dominate the neighboring countries, and the ideal of peaceful communities was to dwell in tranquility under the protection of treaties. In the conflict of principles there could be no end until one of the other triumphed.

There could be no talk of peace at present; a peace pact now would be hollow while the contending nations would begin to prepare for renewal of the struggle. Europe would be left in continual suspense and alarm.

The Earl of Crawford, Unionist, urged more strenuous methods to get rid of German spies. He asserted that in the vicinity of the great naval base of Rosyth they had a well organized system by means of which their wireless ships at night. There had also been discovered, he said, an admirably equipped private post system between Pip and ports of Germany.

The Reason Why

Your furnace doesn't act right is probably because you are not giving it the right kind of fuel, which is coal. Feeding the furnace with our coal means steady and adequate heat all the time. It means a saving, too, but you will have to test by trial before you'll be convinced of that fact.

BREMEN AND HAMBURG ARE NOW IDLE CITIES

Stores and Business Houses Closed; Docks Crowded With Empty Ships

London, Nov. 12.—The Daily Mail prints an American's account of his visit to Bremen and Hamburg, affording a striking picture of the deserted docks at these ports. He says: "In Bremen the hotels are deserted, but the theatres and cafes are full. There is plenty of evidence of unemployment at shops and business houses are closed and the harbor is silent. The docks at Bremerhaven are crowded with shipping, but there is no life there. I was told that transports are waiting there to convey troops to Belgium. "At Hamburg I found the same listlessness, the same dense lines of shipping in port and deserted wharves. Bread, barley and malt are running short. The government is subsidizing landlords against the loss of their rents. It is not possible to speak English in public owing to the hatred for Britain. "In the harbor I was shown three huge liners, transformed by a coat of grey paint and yellow funnels. Soldiers were swarming over them, proclaiming them to be transports destined for the invasion of England. I was told that the soldiers were forbidden to leave the ships and nobody was allowed to approach them. "There is great aircraft activity in Hamburg. I saw eleven sheds, each said to contain a Zeppelin. There are any number of aeroplanes at the air camp, made up of all types. It was reported there that 50 Zeppelins are being built. A lieutenant in the engineer corps told me it was absurd to suppose that the Germans would waste their Zeppelins by single raids on London. The Zeppelins were being kept for the time when the fleet, accompanied by the dirigibles, would attack the British coast simultaneously. This, however, was not the plan for the present, but for the coming spring. "Kiel, in contrast to Hamburg, is a busy port. The streets are thronged with soldiers and marines, while in the harbor dispatch boats dashed hither and thither."

CANADIANS BENEFIT BY THEIR TRAINING

Salisbury Not Like Valcartier but Men Are Doing Hard Work Willingly

Montreal, Nov. 11.—A Montreal Star correspondent with the Canadian expeditionary forces in England, writing from Bustard Camp, Salisbury Plains, under date of October 26, makes some complimentary comment on the improvements he notes in the ranks. He says: "The average Canadian soldier is beginning to feel that Valcartier, rough though it may have been, was not so bad a place after all. "He is beginning to realize the great work that was achieved there, the excitement of the action. And they argue that it is the fighting that makes such conditions worth while. At Valcartier the men were all in one great camp, and there were the main streets, well lighted, where they strolled in the evenings, met their friends, played and felt some reaction from the hard work of the day. On the Plains there are four different camps, each far from the other. There are no lighted streets. The whole place is in darkness. When night comes, and it comes immediately after supper, there is nothing to do but gather in the tents, or about caissons, of which there are few, or stroll away over the roads to one of the villages, several miles away. "The sanitation of the camp is excellent, but there are not the comforts of Valcartier. The food is even more monotonous, though nutritious. The men are not making any objections. Far from that, they are cheerful and quite contented with their lot, bearing in mind, of course, the ever-present and widespread desire to get across the Channel. They do not grumble, not at least, beyond the limit which is allowed all soldiers in all parts of the world. And they can justly be called soldiers now. They have developed wonderfully during the past ten weeks. All have their uniforms and all know how to wear them. I was passing the lines today when the bugle sounded for a parade. Everything was done on the jump. Every man knew his place and reached it in a hurry. "The Canadians as a fighting unit are good stuff, the kind of stuff that wins victories. Take, for instance, the case of E. H. Bradley, formerly sporting editor of the Daily Witness in Montreal. Bradley would not be left. He joined the Corps of Guides, and when it was disbanded at Valcartier was attached to headquarters as an orderly. On the way from Valcartier to Quebec he was thrown from his horse and kicked, two ribs being cracked. Bradley did not say anything about the hurt, but went on with his work, and the next day it was the same. Although suffering intense pain, he did not report for sick parade. The ship had not yet left the dock. Finally he collapsed in the corridor and had to be carried to his berth. Then when the ship was well down the river the matter was reported. He is here at the camp, and unless some greater misfortune overtakes him he will go to the front. "The troops have received any number of evidences of the appreciation of the English folk. Refreshing matter is being prepared and will be sent by the carload to the camp. Peers have delivered the warmest and softest of blankets and ladies have passed out delicacies and cigarettes in every camp. Sir Hiram Maxim has turned his genius from the inventing of new forms of destruction for the enemy to the construction of food for the British troops. He is preparing pea and bean in a new way, making them, it is said, more appetizing and more delectable, and has donated 2,000 tins to the Canadians. The work of the camp goes on as usual. Work on the ranges has just begun. There is more route marching over the wide downs and much plain, unadorned drill. The artillery has been doing target work."

SITUATION IN SMYRNA CONTINUES UNSETTLED

London, Nov. 12.—The situation in Smyrna is still parlous, says the Athens correspondent of the Morning Post. "The British colony, numbering 1,200 persons, wished to leave the city in a body, but the Turks refused to allow their departure. The Turks assured the American consul-general that they would protect the lives and property of all foreigners, but the populace express doubts of the value of these assurances. "French troops have been placed on the heights commanding the town and it is rumored that the Turks plan to shell and burn the city themselves if the allies attempt to take it from the sea."

CONGRATULATIONS SENT AUSTRALIA BY CANADA

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—"Bravo Australia, All Canada congratulates you." The above message was sent to Premier Fisher, of Australia, by Sir George Foster, acting premier of the Dominion, in congratulation of the success of the Australian cruiser Sydney, of the Australian navy, in bringing to a close the career on the Indian ocean of the German commerce destroyer, the cruiser Emden.

MEMBERS OF CANADIAN ARMY ARE PROMOTED

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—Promotions in the Canadian army have come to two Ottawa officers. Captain Hector Verret is now major and R. de Silaberry has been promoted to captain. Both are Dominion government officials, the former being assistant-deputy postmaster-general and the latter an official of the justice department.

THE WAR.

A famous Russian strategist once remarked in referring to a campaign in which the Czar's armies were engaged that "their aim was not to win every battle but to win the war."

More men needed. Although there are approximately 1,200,000 men in training in the United Kingdom, not counting the territorials or overseas contingents, Earl Kitchener, backed by the press, is asking for more men.

Reports state that General Dankl, commander of the Austrian armies in Galicia, has withdrawn his forces towards the Carpathians.

It will be recalled that the supreme direction of the German-Austrian forces had been transferred to the German general staff and the Austrian army became a unit of the German organization.

Recruiting, however, is not as extensive as it was and there have been hints at some form of conscription. Various reasons have been assigned for the falling off.

A SEA SONG.

Germans in New York are reported in the newspapers to have sung on the street "Germania Rules the Waves" after the news of the naval battle on the Pacific was received.

Recruiting will be carried out under certain disadvantages. The people want to know more about the regiments they send to the front, to feel a just pride in their victories, and nothing would make the men of Britain call upon the recruiting sergeant more quickly than the news that this or that regiment had to give way because it was heavily outnumbered.

But there is one aspect of the recruiting situation that baffles us. In Canada there are many former service men who are burning with impatience to get to the front.

Recruiting, however, is not as extensive as it was and there have been hints at some form of conscription. Various reasons have been assigned for the falling off.

GEOGRAPHY AND WAR.

The war is a great educator in geography, and the pupils comprise all classes of society, with equal opportunities for enlightenment.

Some of these places have changed hands several times. Most of them are under Russian control and others are menaced by Russian guns.

For years Russia has been a synonym for tyranny and backward autocracy. Yet she has taught the world many excellent lessons.

Back to the Land in the Beautiful

Saanich Peninsula

How would you like to have 10 acres of beautiful, cleared and well-located agricultural and garden land at a price that you can afford to pay and at which you can make money on it?

This land is situated 10 miles from the city. It is on the coast line on Saanich Bay, and has a fine view from all parts of the subdivision. The property consists of about 10 acres of waterfrontage and 50 acres of land overlooking the water. This is divided into five and ten-acre lots and was priced at from $800 per acre to $1,200 per acre. We have reduced these prices to less than half and any interested parties should call on us immediately.

Our prices are from $300 to $350 Per Acre

The terms are one-third cash and the balance arranged to suit. At these prices we will not consider any exchange or trade and we will pay no commission to anyone. People desiring to purchase land dealing direct with us are buying from the owners at the lowest possible cost. See us to-day and arrange to be taken out.

Equimault Schools.—In pursuance of the policy of development of the schools of Equimault, the school board is calling for applications from candidates for the position of manual training instructor and domestic science instructor. These should be sent in to Lieut. Mulcahy, the secretary of the board, at Thoburn post office. The new teachers will commence their duties on the opening of the schools after the Christmas vacation.

Donations Acknowledged.—The Navy League Chapter, I. O. D. E., which was in charge of the rooms at the Temple building yesterday, received a donation of woolen comforts, cigarettes, etc., from the Equimault chapter; three dozen pairs of woolen gloves from Mr. Shaw; socks from Miss Mona Penzance, aged 83; and wristlets from a small girl of 6, Miss Louise Smith, sent $1 to the emergency fund, and Mrs. Plumb and Mrs. Ker sent a parcel of woolen things. The Canadian chapter, which was on duty the previous day, acknowledged gifts of woolen goods from Mrs. Crotty, Mrs. Camusso, and Mrs. Hibernson. Mrs. Luxton presented some flowers. The Agnes Deans Cameron chapter on Monday received $20 from the International Steam Engineers, Local No. 455; woolen goods from Mrs. Butler, Mrs. W. A. Jones, Mrs. Hylthe and Miss Lawley; and 14 packets of playing cards from Mrs. W. H. Bone.

Girls' Realm Guild.—The Girls' Realm Guild, the local branch of which was formed last April with 35 members, held its first meeting of the season last Thursday at St. Margaret's school. In the absence of Mrs. Osler, the head, the president, Miss Barton, presided. The members decided that as their immediate work they would take up the dressing of thirty dolls for the Christmas tree at the Protestant orphanage; and that they would also give thirty toys for the boys at the home. The next meeting, to be held early in December, will be in the nature of a competition, as all the members' dolls will be exhibited, and the best-dressed will earn prizes. It was reported in connection with the summer work that $100, the proceeds of the country fete held early in the summer, had been sent to the Guild Trust fund, England. Two dozen hand-towels had also been sent to the Children's aid, and three pairs of flannellette quilts to the Victoria day nursery. The society intends doing quite a lot of active work during the ensuing months.

St. Columba Missionary Society.—Mrs. H. E. Young addressed the members of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Columba Presbyterian church at its meeting yesterday afternoon. The president, Miss Watson, presiding, and about forty of the members and their friends being present. The subject of Mrs. Young's talk, "Missions From Every Standpoint," was dealt with in a very interesting manner, the speaker referring to the work in both the positive and negative sense, and speaking of the support as well as the objections which are given to the movement. Reference was made to missions in general, and foreign missions in particular. Mrs. Young urged her audience in judging of the women of India and other Oriental countries to consider the difference in the ideals of those countries before criticizing the peoples from the Christian viewpoint. Special mention was made of the splendid unity of purpose and ideal which had characterized the world's missionary conference held recently at Edinburgh. At the close of the meeting a cordial vote of thanks, moved and seconded by Miss Macconnell and Miss Small, respectively was passed, proceedings concluding with the serving of tea.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, November 12, 1889.

Mr. William Hewartson, who has been arranging for the erection of a paper mill here, was introduced to the city council last evening and explained the nature of the assistance his firm would require in the way of a bonus. The general work of the mill and machinery were lucidly explained, and the question of a cash subsidy was referred to the finance committee, and the question of the water supply to the water committee.

On Sunday morning the steamer Libby, owned by Captain H. T. Beecher, while about ten miles off Whidby island, between Smith's island and San Juan Island, caught fire, and burned to the water's edge. The passengers and crew were saved.

It is stated on good authority that a fixed establishment of artificers to make good defects in ships out here is to be sent from England to Esquimault shortly.

A new sealing schooner purchased for Messrs. Hall and Goepel will leave Lunenburg, N. S., next week, bound for this port. Her name is the Ocean Belle and she is of 80 tons register.

ORDER IS REFUSED.

Court Declines to Make New Order for Sale of Portion of the Medina Estate by Administrator.

An application was made to Mr. Justice Gregory in chambers this morning by Frank Higgins, on behalf of E. M. Johnson, administrator of the old Medina estate, for leave to sell two lots remaining of the estate and situated on Topaz avenue, in the vicinity of the old jail. Mr. Higgins said it was desired to sell these lots in order to recoup the administrator for moneys he had advanced for the payment of taxes, to the amount of $530.

J. A. Alkman, on behalf of the heirs except one interested in one-half of a one-sixth share, opposed the application. He said there had been an order issued by the chief justice four years ago for the sale of these lands at the figure of $5,500, but this sum was now a ridiculously small one in view of the increase in values since then. He offered, for his clients, to raise and pay the money the administrator was out of pocket if he would let them have an accounting.

The court took the ground that it could not interfere with an order for the sale of the lands already made, and that with this order in existence it could not grant the order now asked for. It is possible that a restraining order may be asked for on behalf of the heirs to prevent any action being taken to sell under the old order of court.

No County Court.—As Judge Lampman had not got through the legal business which called him to Vancouver yesterday there was no sitting of the Victoria county court to-day.

However, of the four cases set down for hearing three have been settled out of court. The fourth is in the nature of a re-hearing of a liquor-selling case on appeal from the police magistrate, Rex v. Ruffin. This will be heard to-morrow morning in all probability. If it were to be raised the legal point that the information on which was based the prosecution was not bona fide. The October list before the court is being disposed of rapidly; and the November list will be taken up next week.

Just One Application and the Hairs Vanish (Modes of To-day.)

A harmless, yet very effective, treatment is here given for the quick removal of hairy growths. Mix enough powdered detalone and water to cover the undesirable hairs, apply paste and after two or three minutes remove, wash the skin and the hairs have vanished. One application usually is sufficient, but to be certain of results, by the detalone in an original package.

Soldiers are forbidden to communicate either directly or indirectly to the press any military information or their views on any military subject without special authority.

Advantages of the manufacturers placing demonstrators in the city stores on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, to urge upon customers the advantages of Victoria-made goods, were pointed out.

"WITHIN THE LAW."

To put on an up-to-date New York success in stock naturally means much added expense to a manager, but so liberally did the public respond to the offering of "Peg O' My Heart" by the Allen Players last week, that the management has decided to produce another such play for next week.

"Within the Law." One only has to read the wonderful record the piece has had to know that it is something out of the ordinary—two years in New York, one year in England, one year in Australia, etc. There were at one time no less than six companies playing on tour.

Wherever it has been shown it has created a sensation, for it is a play that does not rely on impossible situations for its interest; it is Life itself. It deals with things as they are to-day in New York. It is some time since the road show passed through here with it and there are no doubt many people who missed it then, who will be glad to learn that, after a long series of experiments, a leading firm of manufacturing druggists has now succeeded in producing a "5-grain tablet" which combines all the valuable anti-acid properties of the ordinary bisulphated magnesia in a very convenient form. This new tablet of bisulphated magnesia can now be obtained of druggists everywhere and many physicians are already prescribing them instead of the powder form.

A very great part of all the mischiefs that vex the world arises from words. People soon forget the meaning, but the impression and the passion remain.

OPEN TENDERS FOR SOUTH PARK ANNEX

Domestic Science and Manual Training Building Will Be Erected by Luney Bros.

Tenders were opened by the city school board last evening for the erection of the proposed manual training and domestic science building at South Park school, for which plans had been prepared by J. C. M. Keith.

The board received an offer of a lot facing on Michigan street, adjacent to the property recently purchased on that street for the site of the above building, but it is improbable it will be purchased, because the board considers it has already sufficient land.

Plans might be induced to make both vegetable and flower gardens on their home lots. It was expected that 100 pupils during the coming year would be instructed.

Religious Meeting.—A lecture will be given in the Victoria theatre, Douglas street, on Sunday evening, by Walter Horace Bundy, of San Francisco, on "Beyond the grave and the mystery of the human soul unveiled."

Sale of Work.—Their annual sale of work will be held by the St. Anne's Guild of St. James' church on Saturday, November 21, in the hall of the new Connaught women's institute, at the intersection of Kingston, Superior and St. Lawrence streets.

Fuzillers Band Concert.—The band of the 4th Fusiliers, under Bandmaster Rowland, will play in "Pantages" theatre on Sunday evening, for which time a very interesting programme has been arranged. Master Willie Balagoo, a clever young violinist, will assist the band.

Lady Douglas Chapter.—The Lady

Douglas Chapter, I. O. O. F., will be on duty at the Temple building headquarters to-morrow. Any ladies who have any articles of knitting or sewing completed are especially requested to bring these to the rooms during the day. Members are asked to attend.

Dances at Royal Oak.—A series of dances on every other Thursday will be held at the Royal Oak hall, under the management of Mrs. Simpson, beginning this evening. Miss Thain's orchestra will supply the music.

To Hold Anniversary.—The anniversary services of Wesley Methodist church will be held on November 23. Rev. J. Gibson Inkster, of the First Presbyterian church, has kindly consented to preach at the morning service.

Y. W. C. A. Bazaar.—One of the principal attractions at the Y. W. C. A. bazaar and sale of work to be opened next Tuesday afternoon will be the character reading by Miss Powell Wright. Another very pleasing feature will be "The Woman With One Hundred Pockets," who is guaranteed to give special pleasure to the young people.

Ladies' Musical Club.—Members and others interested in music will have the opportunity of attending the entertainment to be given this evening in the Alexandra hall under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical club, which has arranged a very excellent programme of vocal and instrumental numbers for the evening. Non-members will be admitted to the concert on payment of twenty-five cents.

Centennial Revival Service.—Rev. Mr. Robson preached last evening at the Centennial Methodist revival services which are being held this week. The subject of his address being "It is not ashamed of the gospel of Christ" (Romans I, v. 16). Mr. Sedgeman sang, and there was a big attendance. A grand rally is held for to-night. When Rev. F. N. Stapleford, M.A., B.D., pastor of James Bay Methodist church, will preach, and James Bryant will be the soloist.

Men's Own Social.—The Men's Bible class of the James Bay Methodist church has been reorganized, with the pastor, Rev. F. N. Stapleford, as the teacher, and the thorough study of the Old Testament is being taken up. An informal social will be given by the class to-morrow evening in the body of the church, for men only. For this there is an excellent programme promised, and the orchestra of the church will provide music. Refreshments will be served.

St. John's Parish.—A parochial at home will be held by the members of the congregation of St. John's church in the schoolroom, corner of Mason and Quadra streets, this evening at eight o'clock. R. W. Perry will occupy the chair, and among the speakers will be the Bishop of Columbia and the Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick. A musical programme has been arranged, and refreshments will be served by the ladies of the congregation.

Workers' Rally.—An important meeting will be held this evening in St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Victoria West, commencing at 7.30. The pastor will have charge of the proceedings, which will be in the nature of a "Workers' Rally." Everyone is asked to come ready with some practical questions and suggestions with a view to obtaining greater efficiency in every department of church life and work.

Two Kinds of Builders.—Rev. Dr. Maclean, of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Victoria West, who has been on the sick list for several days, has now recovered sufficiently to occupy his own pulpit once more. On Sunday he will inaugurate a series of practical Sunday morning addresses on the Parables, starting with the story of "The Wise and the Foolish Builders." In the evening he will preach on "Seeing Ourselves as Others See Us."

Interesting Lecture.—To-morrow evening at 8 Dr. Ernest Hall will deliver an illustrated lecture in the Good Templars' hall, Wilkinson road, at Carey road, Saanich, the subject being "Alcohol and its Vital Effects." At this time, when intoxicating liquors have lately been banished from so many states and countries both in America and in Europe, this lecture by such an authority as Dr. Hall is expected to be of particular interest. No admission will be charged and all are invited.

Centennial Sunday Services.—Rev. F. N. Stapleford, M.A., B.D., will exchange pulpits with Rev. Thomas Green next Sunday morning at Centennial church. In the afternoon a service of special interest to children will be held, and in the evening Rev. Dr. T. Albert Moore, general secretary of the department of the Methodist church, known as social evangelism, will preach. Dr. Moore is visiting the city to attend the conference to be held early in the week in connection with temperance. A noted speaker and writer, his sermon on Sunday evening should be of great interest.

Temperance Conference.—There will be a conference of the pastors and temperance committees of the various Methodist churches in the city next Monday and Tuesday. The meeting will convene on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Metropolitan Methodist church, and again at 8 o'clock in the evening. On Tuesday morning there will be a session at 10 o'clock, and at 2 p.m. the members of the conference will see the government. Rev. Hugh Dobson, field secretary of the western provinces, will be present, and the chair will be taken by Rev. Dr. Albert T. Moore, general secretary of the social evangelism department of the Methodist church in Canada.

Bible Contest.—The Sunday School Bible class examinations on the "Life of Christ" will take place on Friday, November 20, at the Y. M. C. A., from 7 to 9.30 p. m. The committee is calling the attention of superintendents and students to this fact, and is requesting that notice of the examination be posted on the boards of all the Sunday schools next Sunday, so that all those who are intending to compete will be fully aware of the date and time of the examination. Pupils need not bring paper and pencil, as these will be provided for them. Commencement exercises for the presentation of the prizes will be held on Wednesday, December 2, in one of the downtown churches. Further notice will be published, giving details of the programme to be carried out.

FITZPATRICK & O'CONNELL GREAT REORGANIZATION SALE

For two weeks now our store on Yates street just above the King Edward Hotel, has been closed by order of our creditors, owing to the condition of our business as a result of the general depression.

Three days ago Mr. O'Connell returned from Toronto after having made an arrangement whereby we shall re-open again at the same stand, provided we can turn our present splendid stock into $40,000 cash within fifteen days.

If we can do this we remain in business. The stock is a very large and very select one, bought for our Late Fall and Early Winter trade. CLOTHING, GENTS' FURNISHINGS AND HATS of the very finest quality are comprised in it.

In order to realize the cash we need so badly within the time limit, we are going to sell this whole stock at less than cost. We have to do it. We hope we shall never again have to sacrifice as we shall do during this sale. Everything in the store will be marked at a price that cannot be resisted.

We have during our entire career in Victoria enjoyed a reputation for selling first quality goods at reasonable prices. We shall continue in business—if this sale succeeds—on the same basis.

The success of this sale means everything to us. We have a magnificent stock and we simply have to sacrifice it absolutely. You'll see bargains that will make you gasp.

COAST CLUBS WAIVE ON LALONDE

AMATEUR CHAMPIONS LOOK STRONG

Newsy May Be Sold to N. H. A. Club; Y. M. C. A. Club Have Strengthened Team

That there is a big deal pending between the Pacific Coast Hockey association and the National Hockey association is gathered from dispatches sent out from the eastern cities. Newsy Lalonde is not stuck on coming back to the coast, while the Patriots would like to have Didier Pitre once more, Kennedy, to avoid all chances of losing both men to the proposed International league, is willing to trade Pitre for Lalonde. Sammy Lichtenstein is also after Lalonde, and is willing to either buy him outright or give one of his numerous hockey players for the ex-Cornwall athlete. Coast clubs have waived on Lalonde.

Y. M. C. A. are confident of capturing the Coy cup when they play off for this trophy next month with the Fraser Mills hockey septette at Westminster. The Island amateur champions held their initial workout at the Arena last night. Manager Heniger having a large squad in action. The popular leader of the champions again has the assistance of Walter Smith as coach this season, and with the new material that he has on hand, looks for another big year. Subscription lists are now being circulated to secure money for the trip to the mainland, and also to give the club a start this season. Foster Archibald, the husky cover-point of last season, is the only member of the team who will not be out this season. The champions have Strath, McKenzie, Archibald, Wakeley, Mickey Davidson and the rest of the squad, while a number of new men will battle for places on the squad. They have signed Banty Smith, a former McGill, Montreal, star for the line. The Y's will also have McDonald, of Campbellton, N. B.; Moffatt, of Brandon, and McDermott, of McGill, for the forward line, with Walton, of St. Anne's, P. Q., for the defence. It looks as if the Shortt, Hill & Duncan club has beaten the other amateur clubs to several local cracks. Crooks, the Calgary player, whom the Y. M. C. A. team claimed, is booked for goal, with Charlie Bennett and a couple of other stars for the line. The Jewelers are going right after the Commercial league title. The Electricians have signed up Strath and Spence, of the Clothiers, also Jeff Baker. This team will be exceptionally strong this season.

Montreal, Nov. 12.—Apropos of the annual trip for the McGill team, letters were read from Dartmouth and Yale, the former offering a game in Boston or Hanover, with a return to Montreal. Harvard also wished to arrange a game for Friday, February 5. The dates for the trip were not definitely decided, December 20-26 being considered the most suitable.

Montreal, Nov. 12.—T. Emmett Quinn states that the meeting of the National Hockey association called to appoint a new president and consider other matters will be convened here on Saturday morning.

REJOIN CHAMPIONS

JACK ULRICH

Victoria utility hockey player, who returned to the capital yesterday after a few months in Saskatchewan. He was accompanied by Bob Gege, the Senators' defence star, who brought Mrs. Gege along with him. Gege will make his permanent home here if conditions are favorable next spring.

LOCAL FRANCHISE

WILL ALSO SHIFT

Class B. Salary Limit at Omaha Has Been Reduced to $2,000; Other Reductions

It is likely that there will be still another change in the ownership of the Victoria baseball franchise before next season opens in the capital. Owner J. Kingham has stated that he will not continue for another season, and an option has been given on the club to local fans who are willing to take over the club. The names will be made public at the annual meeting of the Northwest League next month in Seattle, when the directors will get together to discuss problems that affect the Northwestern circuit. The story from Omaha that the Northwestern league will ask for protection if they close their parks is not looked upon locally as the death knell of baseball for 1915, but it means that the Western Canada circuit has been confused with the Northwestern league.

The reduced salary limit is forecasted in the Class B limit which has been given out as $2,500 by the Omaha gathering. With but fourteen players on the payroll, this means that the clubs will cut down in earnest.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 12.—A horizontal reduction of 20 per cent. in the salary limit paid by minor league clubs was the recommendation of the committee on constitutional revision of the National Association of Professional Leagues. It was adopted so far as it concerned class A and class B leagues. Leagues in class A were permitted to revise their salary lists as fitted their convenience, and leagues in the C and D class were given another day in which to agree on a limit that would be satisfactory to them, and to make a report to-morrow.

The schedule of salary limit was then presented by the chairman of the committee on constitutional revision. It recommended the following limit: Class A, $5,000 per month; Class A, Southern association, $2,000; Western league, $2,800; Class B, $2,000; Class C, $1,200; Class D, $1,000. These limitations were put on the number of players: Class A, 28 for the first twenty days and 15 during season; Class A, 28 and 15; Class B, 24 and 14; Class C, 22 and 12; Class D, 22 and 12.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Sale of the Chicago club of the National League, to Charles Weegman, owner of the Chicago Federal league club, was expected to be made here to-day as a part of the peace pact between organized baseball and the Federal organization.

A conference arranged by August Hermant, of Cincinnati, chairman of the National Baseball commission, was held here to-day by Mr. Weegman and George Ward, one of the owners of the Brooklyn Federal league club. Charles P. Taft, owner of the Chicago Nationals, also was expected to participate in the meeting.

SUCCEEDS KELLY.
Toronto, Nov. 12.—Eddie Fitzpatrick, the clever shortstop of the Maple Leafs, is to take charge of the Leafs for the season of 1915, according to a statement made public yesterday. Kelly, it is stated, will retire from baseball and devote his whole time to his business interests in Baltimore.

OLDFIELD VICTOR.
Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 12.—Barney Oldfield won an elapsed time, the 62-mile Los Angeles to Phoenix automobile race. His unofficial time was 22:29 for the distance. Nikrent, who reached the finish first, was timed 23:35; Bramlette, second in, at 26:10.

Oldfield was third in having broken down nine miles from the finish after leading practically all the way.

Rugby Union Reverses Defeats Because Soldiers Played Ineligible Men

James Bays were handed a big lead at yesterday's meeting of the Victoria Rugby union, when the Fusiliers and Willows Camp teams lost points for playing ineligible men against the Welsh fifteen, the latter now being second to the Bays. The action of the union did not come as a surprise, but the soldiers were somewhat disappointed that the union would not allow them to combine as one team and finish the schedule. The union officials stated that this would make the series too one-sided. The standing now is:

Team	Won	Lost	Pts.
James Bays	2	0	6
Welsh	1	1	4
Willows	1	2	2
8th Fusiliers	0	2	0

EASTERN LEADERS

Team	W. L. For. Agst.	Points
Hamilton	4 1 84	33
Argonauts	4 1 111	44
Montreal	2 2 52	77
Ottawa	0 2 29	17

PRAIRIE PLAYERS FOR TERMINALS

Vancouver, Nov. 12.—Fred Whitcroft, the well-known Edmonton hockey player, who is acting as scout for Frank Patrick in Alberta and Saskatchewan, has practically completed the team which will represent this city in the Pacific Coast Hockey league this winter. The new men are Lloyd Cook, a defence player, and Johnny Matz and Mickey McKay, forwards. Cook is one of the famous Tabors, Alta. Cooks. He is a big fellow, 21 years old and Whitcroft thinks that under Patrick's wing he will develop into one of the best defence men in the country. Cook is slated for the job of point player on the Vancouver team. Matz showed great form with Edmonton two seasons back, and in the Alberta league last winter was a star. He is ripe for professional company, and Whitty thinks he is sure to make good. McKay played with the Grand Forks, N. D. C. team in the Boundary league last winter, and was a star there. His home is in Toronto and he left last night for the coast.

SCHOOL SCHEDULE DRAWN UP LATER

With ten teams entered the school hockey league should be productive of some great out-battles this winter. A meeting was held yesterday afternoon at which the following officers were elected: President, George Jay; secretary, H. B. Maclean; treasurer, D. Deury; committee, J. C. Barnacle (University school), A. A. Campbell (South Park school), W. Jenkins (Central school). Teams have so far entered as follows: George Jay school, 1; South Park, 2; Central, 2; High school, 4; McGill college, 1. The University school is expected to enter two teams. The schedule will be drawn up after the amateur hockey leagues have been allotted their dates.

"MAKE SAUSAGE MEAT OF THEM."

Writing to his mother at Cowea, Lance Corporal J. Ryall, of the First King's Royal Rifles, says: "Our lads in the company are sucking it well up now. We all work together and do our best. If we only had to fight their infantry we would make a bit of a matter of them in Berlin. I think smoking gives you a lot of comfort when you are in the trenches, with only shots and shells flying about. The Germans have not moved from here yet, but before we finish our tour of France we are either going to make sausage-meat of them or wait until November 5, and burn them."

THISTLES SAID TO HAVE SIGNED STAR

Jimmie Adams May Leave Bays; Pilkington Goes to Willows Camp

It is rumored that the Thistles will secure Jimmie Adams from the Bays for the balance of their matches. An official of this club stated to the Times this morning that they expected to have Adams transferred. This would give the Thistles an exceptionally strong attack, as Adams is one of the best soccer goalkeepers in the country. The description of Adams will probably work the Bays, as with Pilkington now at the Willows, this club will have a hard time winning a game. Jacksons and Thistles provide the feature on Saturday, and the latter will have Rodgers back in the nets for this game. Cyril Baker will be available for the Wests' attack.

Wests and Empires were given eyes in the intermediate league because of the shortage of grounds. Lally of the Empires and Strain of the Civic Service, were suspended for two weeks because of their clash last Saturday. Oak Bays succeeded in having Martin and Potter, two former seniors, re-graded to strengthen their eleven. Civic Service and Empires teams will have to replay their protested match of two weeks ago. The Thistles did not enter a protest against the Wests' goal on Saturday, but Referee Hartley in his report said that the goal had been fairly earned, striking the goal post and bounding back to Pump, who tallied the tying goal. Saturday's schedule of games:

Senior	Junior
Jacksons vs. Thistles, Beacon Hill (lower); referee, Mr. Lock.	James Bays vs. Wests, Beacon Hill (upper); referee, Mr. Goward.
Intermediate.
Oak Bay vs. Beaufield, Beacon Hill (new grounds); referee, Mr. Oliver.	C. P. R. vs. Civic Service, Heywood avenue grounds.

WORLD SERIES STAR WEDS.

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 12.—Walter J. Maraville, shortstop of the world's championship Boston Nationals and Miss Elizabeth Shea, were married here yesterday in the church of the Sacred Heart.

C. P. R. LINEUP.

The following line-up will represent the C. P. R. for the game with Civic Service on Saturday: Goal, Craig; backer, Cowan and Davidson; halves, R. G. G. and Stafford; forward, Gault; forward, Fitcher; center, Carroll; Holt; Marshall; reserves, Hamilton, Campbell, Thurman.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

Third League Still in Existence. Despite the flowery statements of Sammy Lichtenstein and Geo. Kennedy, the Nationals of Montreal are going ahead with their efforts to form a third professional hockey league. They have Art Ross, the former Wanderer star, whipping up the Boston and New York capitalists, and expect to make their big announcement shortly. Ross is said to have lined up sufficient money for a Montreal club, while Ottawa and Toronto are also asking for franchises. The holding out of the eastern professionals would indicate that there is something behind the new league more than hot air. Once let the league get away to a good start and the National Hockey association, instead of cutting salaries, will have to increase their weekly pay envelopes to hold the hockey stars, who, after all, are merely human and will go where the iron men are thickest.

Fewer White Hopes After Title.

Thanks to Grim Reaper, Black Hand and Co., the stock of white hopes has dwindled away to—Jess Willard. He's some hope, at that, lifting his top piece 6 feet 7 inches into the empyrean, before reaching capillary district. Of the white men who have risen to the hope altitude, the following have succumbed to various vicissitudes: Luther McCarthy, Arthur Pelkey, Al Palmer, Frank Moran, Carl Moggis, and Gunboat Smith. They are shouting "Next!" at Willard, now. Of the men named the demises were accounted for as follows: Al Palmer—His glim was doused by James Flynn. Luther McCarthy—Killed in a rick by Arthur Pelkey. Arthur Pelkey—Rocked to sleep by Gunboat Smith. Gunboat Smith—Sunk by the black hand of Sam Langford. Frank Moran—Another victim, Jack Johnson officiating.

HEAVIES' CLASH

Johnson and Willard Will Battle at Jauerez Racetrack; Champion Gets $30,000

The next battle for the world's heavyweight championship will take place within the gates of the race track at Jauerez, Mexico. The principals will be Jack Johnson, the negro who holds the title, and Jess Willard, the Kansas cowboy, who for a long time has been considered the best of the "white-hopes." The date has not been set, but the bout will take place within the next three months.

The contest will be staged by a syndicate of New York sporting men, who have guaranteed Johnson the $30,000 which he demands, win, loss, or draw. Willard also will be guaranteed a certain amount, but just what he will receive has not been made public. This definite information was brought from Chicago yesterday by a New Yorker who is financially interested in the match.

ATHLETES' COMPANY.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—Toronto may have its company of trained athletes ready for war emergencies. Capt. J. C. Skene, of the Beach detachment of the Home Guards, is in the front with a suggestion that Toronto athletes form a company of Home Guards, and to this end will cooperate with other well-known athletes and call a meeting at the Central Y. M. C. A. some night this week. Captain Skene is better known to athletes as "Cluck" Skene, who was for several years Canada's champion walker, and was also a good half-miler.

PATRIOTIC BONSPIEL.

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—At a meeting of the Manitoba curling association held here, it was decided to hold patriotic bonspiels throughout the clubs in the association for the benefit of the war fund. The annual bonspiel takes place in Winnipeg on February 10, and the prospects of a successful carnival are very bright, despite the fact that the European war is bound to detract a certain amount of interest from it. The same big prize list as other years will be offered.

CEMETERY SITE. To the Editor:—Your correspondent, 'Farmer's Wife', has unquestionably been prompted to criticise the action of the Real Estate Exchange through the medium of the 'Times'.

This title was wrong and misleading, and I can only say that my conversation was not intended to convey anything on the subject. I had been appointed to the committee and had pointed out that the interests of the public would be best served by inviting offers through an advertisement in the public press.

POSITION OF WORKINGMEN. To the Editor: Mr. Campion in tonight's Times asks a few questions which I feel would be discourteous not to answer.

Then Mr. Campion asks if it is not a disgrace to watch the lumber mills at the noon hour and see the Chinamen leaving. Mr. Campion means it is a disgrace that these men should be employed in preference to white men.

URGE THAT WOOD BE USED FOR PAVING

Mill Men Meet Aldermen; Other Cities to Be Asked for Information

This morning the desirability of using wood blocks for paving was urged by representatives of the mill-owners upon a special committee, including Mayor Stewart, Alderman Porter, chairman of the streets committee, and Alderman Dwyer.

The delegation, which included J. O. Cameron, J. P. Elford and W. F. Best, asked that British Columbia soft woods be used as a paving material, naming fir and second growth cedar as suitable for the purpose. They expressed a desire to lay some sample pavement in the business district with untreated blocks. The cost of the crossing would involve an expenditure several times greater than the small cost of the wood.

Reference was made to the city's experience with wood blocks, and it was admitted that wood had not been satisfactory in some respects, the class of wood used not having been of the best. Broad-street was mentioned as a street which would be paved shortly on account of the condition of the present blocks.

The city engineer expressed approval of wood blocks for downtown streets on account of the fact that they were not noisy under traffic and did not become slippery as asphalt surfacing.

It was decided that before the council is recommended to commit itself to any policy in the matter, an account of the experience of other cities should be obtained. The members of the delegation were able to show that wood blocks are used in some of the leading cities of the world.

It is likely that there will be quite a lot of business transacted to-morrow, as several committees have sittings arranged. In the morning the interim municipal committee will meet to consider Fort-day road improvement, as the Oak Bay council is interested it will send representatives.

In the afternoon the paving committee will meet to decide on a number of matters which have arisen since the last meeting. Later will follow the meeting of the streets committee of the council. At that meeting the real estate exchange will have a department present, to lay before the aldermen the desirability of giving further consideration to the matter of a new cemetery site before deciding to purchase. A committee of owners on Dundas street will also attend to discuss the assessment for the paving on that street.

DRILLING OF TROOPS

Victoria Battalion Nearly Organized; Home Defence Organizations Parade To-night; Gifts for Soldiers.

Further progress was made to-day with the organization of the second contingent which is going from Victoria, and the companies are being got into shape. This part of the work is likely to be finished this week. As soon as it is over the officers of the battalion will be announced, it is expected and their training as a unit will commence.

All the companies of the Victoria Volunteer Guard will parade this evening at the headquarters, 221 Douglas street, for drill. Recruits will be sworn in previous to the commencement of drill. After the drill Sergeant Wheeler will address the men on some of the campaigns of the Empire. The Victoria Volunteer Reserve will parade at the drill hall this evening at 8 o'clock. New recruits are asked to report at the orderly room before the parade.

The girls of the High school are making up comforts for the former students of the High school who are with the Canadian expeditionary force at the front. These are being got ready to be sent forward so as to reach the boys at Christmas time, and will include warm garments, gloves, mitts and neck computers.

MILITARY REVUE TO-NIGHT

Rehearsal Held Last Night Assures Diverting Evening for Those Who Attend Theatre.

Reminiscence of many merry meetings of the Amateur Dramatic and Amateur Operatic Societies of Victoria was that held last evening at the old Victoria theatre for the rehearsal of the Grand Military Musical Revue which is to be given this evening and for the two succeeding nights at the Royal Victoria theatre in aid of the Patriotic and the Belgian Relief funds. Despite the fact that the theatre was in darkness for half an hour, when the city was plunged in darkness owing to the electric current being cut off, the rehearsal progressed merrily by the light of matches and a jolly electric torch.

Everything in the rehearsal was most reassuring, and augured well for the success of the entertainment in its full dress and on the larger stage. March Orders, or "Shoulder to Shoulder" is just what it pretends to be a revue, military and musical. Victoria is the supposed scene of the events in Act I, where the sons and daughters of the British Empire, with their friends and people of the allies, and other friendly powers, are shown mixing gaily over the stalls in the big public hall.

The opening chorus (from "Faust") was delivered by the whole company, and was splendidly full-voiced and magnificently timed under the energetic baton of Hamilton Earle, with Mrs. Gibson at the piano as accompanist. All that followed was directed by Mr. Hincks, who has emphasized the best features of the performance in a very commendable manner. Dances, songs, choruses, all are characterized by the military swing which is so popular an element in all entertainments of the day, and the audience which does not become infected with the spirit of the performers must indeed be lethargic.

Act II, representing the camp at Valenciennes, is particularly engaging, and shows a number of interesting military features. The audience is especially requested to join in the choruses, the words of which will be found on the handsomely prepared souvenir programme.

OBITUARY RECORD

The funeral of the late Joseph Robertson, whose death occurred on November 9, took place at 2:30 this afternoon from the Sands Funeral parlors, Rev. Leslie Clay officiating. There was a very large attendance, and the hymn: "Nearer My God to Thee" was sung. The pallbearers were: Messrs. J. Malcolm, A. Sherriff, William Collin, James Dakers, A. Dakers, and J. Dakers were several beautiful floral emblems sent.

APPLE FAIR OPENS IN CAPITAL TO-DAY

Luncheon of Rotary Club Addressed by One of Leading Growers of the Okanagan

As was to be expected, the luncheon of the Victoria Rotary club this afternoon had an especial reference to the apple fair which commenced to-day. The menu which the chef of the Westholme grill had prepared for the members bore particular items in which the apple figured, and the tables all were bright with the fruit in one form or another.

The club had a menu card printed for the occasion, which was also the fiftieth luncheon held by the club since it was organized last year. This contained several adjurations to the members to patronize the fruit-growing industry, and in particular to buy and eat plenty of British Columbia apples.

Frank Higgins, president of the club, had at the table of honor with him W. E. Scott, deputy minister of agriculture; R. Robertson, general manager of the Okanagan United Growers, Limited, and W. C. Ricardo, of the Goldstream ranch, Vernon. The attendance of members was very large.

A striking object in the decoration of the room was an array of boxes of apples, grown in the province and presenting better than anything could have done an idea of the worth and beauty of the product of British Columbia. This was arranged by the F. R. Stewart & company, whose manager, R. H. Brechley, introduced the principal speaker of the day, Mr. Robertson.

Mr. Robertson, backed by what he called "a fair sample of our average pack," stated that no boxes had been specially packed for the present campaign. He confessed that nothing had been so encouraging to him as the previous fair hour, and the spirit of mutual self-help exhibited.

Victoria was a beautiful city, but it could only be really beautiful insofar as it was helpful in its service to the people of the continent, and this was but another way of stating the principles of every Rotarian.

Giving a few suggestive figures of the fruit industry of the province, Mr. Robertson stated that from 8,000 acres in 1900 the acreage under fruit had grown to 28,000 in 1913. Where the value of the crop in 1900 was $200,000, it was last year $1,050,000. Last year there were but 12,000 acres of the total under fruit producing. Taking the whole acreage, and an average of fifty trees to the acre, with an average of five boxes to the tree, one could secure some startling figures of the value of the industry and the possibilities of production. The total investment in the industry in British Columbia was twenty million dollars.

Of conditions in the Okanagan Mr. Robertson said that growers were much discouraged at the support they were given by the Canadian merchants and consumers, but they had not lost heart. They were quite prepared to supply fruit at a fair commercial value, but must have the support of the trade and the people. This year the British Columbia growers had so perfected their organization that they controlled the Alberta market, and had sent more apples than ever before to Vancouver and a large amount to Victoria. In this connection, Mr. Robertson declared that the man who would sell inferior apples as British Columbia product was not fit to be a citizen of Victoria—but that had been done in the capital in an odd case.

"Support the home industry," was the slogan which he left with the club. J. O. Cameron, reminded Rotarians that assistance to the fruit-growers of the province would aid at the same time help local industries and home merchants.

Mr. Scott emphasized the importance of encouraging home production in every way. As an example of the economic value of apple-growing the deputy minister pointed out that this season there were brought into Victoria and Vancouver 600 cars of apples, which at $600 a car, represented a sum of $360,000 which was distributed either in British Columbia or in the United States, as the consumer patronized home industry or failed to do so.

A hearty vote of thanks to the speakers was adopted on motion of J. B. Hunter.

The apple festival has led to some skilful window-dressing in the leading stores, and there are many tempting displays of the luscious fruit. When the judges make their selection of the prize winners to-morrow they will have a difficult time in deciding which is the best, as the competition is keen.

The festival is succeeding. Hereafter it is hoped that Victoria people will always look for the B. C. brand on the box and inquire when purchasing apples to know if they have been grown in the province. In purchasing British Columbia grown fruits, the customer may feel that he is getting something that may be depended on for quality, as the fruit is graded, packed and shipped in accordance with Dominion government standards. The high quality of British Columbia grown fruit is clearly shown in the success it has had at various exhibitions throughout the world in competition with fruit from many other points.

To-morrow fruit grown in the orchards of Vancouver Island and adjacent islands will be shown at the city market, and it will then be seen how unnecessary it is for Victorians to depend on imported fruit. The sales of apples by the box have been frequent since the market was reopened, and to-morrow there should be a great increase. Apples will be the special feature of the market. It is expected there will be a large supply as the fruit crop has been remarkable.

In observation of the opening day of the festival, most of the hotels and restaurants to-day served menus in which apples played a large part. Among the dishes provided were raw apples, apple puree, dumplings, fritters, fried apples, apple cobbler, and all kinds of apple pies. The menu cards were surmounted in many instances with a picture of a juicy British Columbia apple, reproduced in natural colors.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In the Matter of the Estate of James Freeman.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that all creditors and others having claims against the Estate of the said James Freeman, who died on or about the 1st day of August, 1914, at Cobble Hill in the Province of British Columbia, are required, on or before the 30th day of November, 1914, to send by post prepaid to the undersigned, Messrs. Tait, Brandon & Hall, of the Sixth Floor, B. C. Permanent Loan Building, Victoria, B. C., Solicitors for Daley Davidson, Annie Furman and Lillian Hancock, executors of the Estate of the said deceased, their Christian and surnames, addresses and descriptions, full particulars of their claims, a statement of their accounts and the nature of the securities (if any) held by them.

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that after such last mentioned date the said executors will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which they shall then have notice, and that the said executors will not be liable for the said assets or any part thereof of any person or persons of whose claims notice shall not have been received by them at the time of such distribution.

Dated the 11th day of November, 1914.

SCOTTISH FARMERS HAD CASH IN TRUST COMPANY

Horatio Stewart Seeking Security for Which $150,000 Was Paid.

Vancouver, Nov. 11.—That the $150,000 claim of Horatio Stewart of Edinburgh, Scotland, against the Dominion Trust Company represents the hard earned savings of Scottish peasant farmers is alleged by counsel appearing in the case on behalf of Mr. Stewart. It is further alleged that 60 securities can be found against the funds which had been paid in by Mr. Stewart.

Mr. Stewart is said to have been engaged in business as an investment agent among the Scottish farmers,

EARLY WHEAT ADVANCE WAS NOT MAINTAINED

Corn Trade Stubborn; Breaking Only Fraction With Wheat Fall

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Foreign news this morning did not confirm the peace reports which caused many holders to sell out and bear leaders to sell short. There was a natural bull market up to 11:30 May first hour. Then the trade was treated to another round about a disagreement between Germany and Austria and a break in Northwest. This started the selling flurry of yesterday all over again, and a break of 1/16 in thirty minutes. Scattered holders held their wheat on the break. It was absorbed by resting orders in the hands of commission people. Some of the elevator people and export interests got busy on the break and the market started up briefly. New York and Kansas City were waiting for news.

The corn trade was stubborn from the start and even on a little reaction when wheat had its break, prices were only a small fraction under the close yesterday. When it was discovered that the country offerings were light, cash prices steady, weather indications unsettled for tomorrow and Northwest furnished reports of heavy foreign buying of corn, prices started higher. Southwest confirms previous placing orders for corn.

and had been entrusted with a large amount of small sums to invest. These he had grouped together and had been in the habit of sending them to Vancouver for investment in securities. The Dominion Trust Company had received this money and was supposed to hold the securities in trust for Mr. Stewart and his estate. So far, it is said, no securities can be found against Mr. Stewart's account and it is a mystery as to where the $150,000 has gone. It is hoped that the investigating committee can throw some light upon the matter after an audit of the accounts has been completed.

LABOR SUPPORT FOR BRITISH GOVERNMENT

Party Leader Says the Only Course is War Until Success is Attained

London, Nov. 12.—Arthur Henderson, the Labor leader, upon the continuation in the House of Commons to-day of the address in reply to the speech from the throne said that organized labor felt that the only course now open was to go straight through with the war until complete and final success crowned the allies' efforts.

When the end came, he said, labor would use its powerful influence to ward off a settlement on the lines of true nationalism and democracy. The government's white paper on the question of allowances for those dependent upon soldiers obviated the necessity for him to go further on that subject, but he still felt that recruits were being improperly treated. He cited cases where wives had been insulted by officers of relief associations.

Mr. Henderson also inquired if the government was in a position to tell more about the escape of the former German cruisers Goeben and Breslau from the British Mediterranean fleet and whether there existed a prior arrangement for the sale of these cruisers between Germany and Turkey.

RUSSIANS GAVE LIVES TO SAVE WAR VESSEL

Picket Boat Rushed at Mine When Unable to Warn Cruiser.

London, Nov. 12.—A dispatch from Petrograd to the Times says: "The correspondence of Finnish newspapers report a heroic sacrifice of the crew of a Russian picket boat in order to save a Russian cruiser which was unwittingly approaching a mine in the Gulf of Finland.

"Realizing that it was too late to signal the danger, the boat deliberately rushed at the mine at full speed. A terrific explosion followed and six of the crew of seven perished. The survivor, who was seriously wounded, has been awarded the decoration of St. George."

SOCIALISTS WILL TRY TO BRING ABOUT PEACE

Copenhagen, Nov. 12.—It is announced that the Socialist peace congress, which meets December 6, will discuss the possibility of making peace proposals. Representatives of all neutral countries have been invited, and Copenhagen is believed to be the city where such negotiations, if initiated, will be held.

YOUNG MAN MARRIES WILL JOIN CONTINGENT

Seattle, Nov. 12.—Married to the sweetheart of his boyhood on the eve of going to war, Jesse A. Blair, 23 years old, a former member of the U. S. army, left for Victoria, B. C., following the ceremony last night, and will join a company of infantry that is being recruited for service in Europe.

The bride was Miss Kenney of Seattle.

RECRUITING STOPPED.

Montreal, Nov. 12.—Recruiting here for the infantry quota from Montreal for the second contingent has been stopped, as the ranks are full. Nearly two thousand men enlisted and three hundred more from the west are to join this detachment.

LOSS OF CRUISERS IS OFFICIALLY PRESUMED

London, Nov. 12.—The admiralty announced to-day that in the absence of further information the loss of the British cruisers Good Hope and Monmouth in the naval engagement off the coast of Chile with the German squadron on November 1 is now officially presumed.

BERLIN NEWSPAPERS PRAISE EMDEN'S CAREER

Cruiser Was Bound to Be Caught Was Opinion in German Capital.

Berlin, Nov. 12.—All the morning papers of Berlin unite in publishing articles in praise of the commerce-destroying career of the German cruiser Emden, and they declare that her final destruction always had been assured. The Emden was driven ashore on the Cocos Islands by the Australian cruiser Sydney.

The Morgen Post says that never has a single ship taken part in international warfare with such terrible results, and all the papers reprint from London journals laudatory articles on Captain Carl von Meurer, the commander of the Emden.

Major Morant, the military critic, writes in the Tagblatt: "There was no question that the career of the Emden was bound to come to an end before long. The British admiralty would have lost the confidence of the nation unless it finally succeeded in destroying her. In view of the great difference between the fighting power of the Emden and that of her opponent, the Sydney, it is no wonder she suffered severely. Her career has been a glorious one and never will be forgotten."

HUNTING AT NIGHT FINED FIFTY DOLLARS

Courtenay, B. C., Nov. 11.—Lyman Hart, found by Game Warden Dawley with a gun and a pit lamp on his head, was arrested yesterday, placed in jail and tried today. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars or one month's imprisonment for hunting at night.

MONTREAL BARRISTER IS TREASURER FOR QUEBEC

Quebec, Nov. 12.—Walter G. Mitchell, barrister, Montreal, who is a son of Senator Mitchell, has been appointed provincial treasurer to replace the late Hon. Peter G. McKeen. Mr. Mitchell will run in Richmond county, nomination day being Nov. 21, and voting on the 25th inst. Mr. Mitchell was sworn in this morning after a short meeting of the cabinet.

AMERICAN CONSULATE AT RHEIMS DAMAGED

Rheims, Nov. 12.—A German shell exploded yesterday in the street opposite the American consulate. The front of the building was cut up by the shrapnel, but neither the American shield nor the consulate was damaged. Heretofore six weeks German shells by the thousands have been falling into this quarter of the city, but this is the first time the consulate has been struck.

William Bardell, the consul, left here yesterday for Amiens. Herrick three weeks ago and the consulate is empty. So far as is known there is not a single American in Rheims.

LIQUIDATION IN WHEAT BRINGS WINNIPEG DROP

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—Liverpool cables, which were as weak as expected, which was responsible for a steady opening here. The liquidation was, however, causing prices to decline sharply. About noon the decline from yesterday's close was 1/2c, but the tendency was for a reaction. July wheat was sold for the first time to-day at $1.24, at the close wheat was unchanged to 1/2c higher from Wednesday, oats 1/2c lower to 1/2c higher, and flax 1/2c to 3/4c higher.

The cash demand was good for all grades of wheat, but few offerings were being brought to the market. Oats, barley and flax were quiet. Inspection Wednesday were 58c cash as against 1.45 1/2 year, and in sight were four hundred cars.

CONFERENCE LEADER

IS VICTORIA MAN

J. Burt Morgan Elected President of North Pacific Unitarian Conference

Rev. H. E. B. Speight, M.A., pastor of the First Unitarian church, has returned from Seattle, where he attended the North Pacific Unitarian Alliance conference, the sessions of which were held in Boylston avenue Unitarian church. One of the principal features of the gathering was the address by Dr. Samuel Atkins Elliot, president of the American Unitarian association, and son of Dr. C. W. Elliot, one-time president of Harvard University. The church was crowded with an attentive and interested audience, which was much impressed with the inspiring address given by this leader in the Unitarian church of the United States.

Dr. Elliot, Mr. Speight reports, is to visit Victoria next Sunday, and will preach at the services at the First Unitarian church here on Sunday evening at 7.30. Rev. G. C. Sharpe, of Vancouver, will assist at these services, which will be inductorial. Dr. Elliot's subject will be "Religion in the Life of Today." While in the city he will take the opportunity of meeting the trustees of the local church.

Another interesting speaker at the convention referred to was Hon. W. D. Lane, of Seattle, whose subject was "The Social Task of Christianity." Mr. Speight also addressed the gathering on "The Unitarian Movement in Religion as Witnessed in All the Churches in England." At the conference on Women's Alliances and their work the speakers were Mrs. Carl J. Smith of Seattle; Mrs. F. C. Perkins, of the University of Women's Unitarian Alliance; and other ladies. Delegates were present from the States of Washington and Oregon, and also from British Columbia, those who attended from Victoria being Rev. H. E. B. Speight and Mrs. Speight, and Mrs. George Barton, president of the Women's Alliance.

START TRAINING SCHOOL

Rev. I. W. Williamson Receives Endorsement of Sunday School Superintendents in Scheme for Training.

At a meeting of the Sunday school superintendents of Victoria, held last evening in the Y. M. C. A., Rev. I. W. Williamson, general secretary of the Sunday school Association of British Columbia, gave an address in which he pointed out the need of trained teachers in the Sunday school as well as in the public schools, and set before the meeting a suggestion for a city training school. This was adopted unanimously, and a further meeting will be held on Friday evening, November 20, with a view to getting a list of the names of the intending teacher-students.

The scheme set forth by Mr. Williamson will make it necessary for him to come over from Vancouver every week to conduct the classes, and these will be held every Wednesday evening for twelve weeks, at the close of which time examinations will be held. He will also conduct classes over the same period in Vancouver, New Westminster and Nanaimo. The Victoria classes will commence on Wednesday, November 25, and will be held as follows: December 2, 9, 16; January 6, 13, 20, 27; and February 3, 10, 17 and 24. The place of meeting will be the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Williamson will speak for forty-five minutes each night, and suggests that another forty-five minutes should be spent by the students in divisional conference.

Some further particulars of the classes were enumerated by the general secretary: Examinations will be given at the end of the term; students will receive credits for attendance, notebook work, and final examination; a diploma will be given for a pass of 75 per cent; each student will be required to pay a registration fee of fifty cents to help cover expenses; and diplomas will be presented at the district convention to be held in March. The subjects to be presented by Mr. Williamson will be "The Great Need," "What the Teacher Ought to Know," "The Teacher's Knowledge of the Bible," "The Art of Teaching," etc. The elementary union and the superintendents' union of the city will combine with the training school.

In a certain town the local forecaster of the weather was so often wrong that his predictions became a standing joke. To his no small annoyance, for he was very sensitive. At length, in despair of being down his reputation, he asked headquarters to transfer him to another station. A brief correspondence ensued. "Why," asked headquarters, "do you wish to be transferred?" "Because," the forecaster promptly replied, "the climate doesn't agree with me."

The Same Old Question "What to Give for Christmas?" is Best Answered at Weiler's

Although it was raining and bitterly cold on Tuesday afternoon and I was anxious to get home quickly, I just forgot all about the weather and home the moment I entered Weiler's door. Everything looked so warm and bright and beautiful that I felt as if I had strayed into Fairyland, and was almost afraid to move lest it should vanish. The cheery greeting of the head of the department recalled me to my senses. He listened patiently while I recounted my perplexity regarding Christmas gifts, and asked his opinion of what I'd better get for mother. With a kindly smile he led the way down an aisle flanked by the loveliest oak and reed jardiniere stands, window boxes and ceterettes to the handsomest display of drawingroom furniture I have ever seen—not those stiff, Puritanical-looking Parlor Sets—but the loveliest odd pieces that make such appropriate Christmas gifts. I gazed spellbound at a "Pickwick Set" of solid mahogany chairs—with quaint, old-fashioned rush bottoms, and that slender, graceful appearance that only hand-made English furniture possesses. The medallion in the centre back of each chair bore a quaintly dressed figure representing one of the ever-interesting characters of "Pickwick Papers." The arm chair was particularly beautiful and I was astonished, on stealing a glance at the cost ticket to find that the cash price was only $22.50, while the small chairs are only $13.50 each. An exquisite Mahogany Table, with slender, gracefully curved legs, and a convenient lower shelf, bore a cash price ticket of $20.25. But those chairs appealed to me more than anything else. I came away with my mind fully made up to have that beautiful "Pickwick Set" for mother. I'm sure she will be delighted with it, and it will add such a distinctive charm to her drawingroom. That's one perplexing question answered anyway. I'm going back to Weiler's to-day to settle some more of my gift problems before the most tempting pieces of their choice display are sold.
